
From: MICHAEL ANGLELY
Sent: Monday, February 18, 2019 6:40 PM
To: 'El Paso County Republican Party'
Subject: RE: It's not too early to get ready

Importance: High

Tamra,

Thanks, and while I appreciate the enthusiasm that comes with a new position, I am concerned with your email.

Your promotion of Sen Gardner's reelection seems premature and an inappropriate placing of the party's thumb-on-the-scale of a candidate before a primary. He must first get through the primary and become the party nominee before any party official endorses him. What does this signal to a primary challenger should there be one?

Doesn't this violate party by-laws? Will you issue a retraction? I can see legal challenges to your email from a potential challenger.

As a side note, I disagree that the 2020 election is the most important one since 2016. I believe the 2018 election was – the one that Colorado's GOP thoroughly botched through a lack of leadership and by marginalizing the base. I'm afraid your email signals that the party hasn't learned the painful lessons from 2018 and that it will continue to ignore the voices of true conservatives as we head into 2020.

Cheers,

Michael Angley

Colonel, United States Air Force (ret)
Senior Supervisory Special Agent, Office of Special Investigations (ret)

From: El Paso County Republican Party <chairman@gopelpaso.com>

Sent: Monday, February 18, 2019 7:39 AM

Subject: It's not too early to get ready

View online

EL PASO COUNTY REPUBLICANS

gopelpaso.com